Change realm dropdown,
populated with list of realms where current user
has rwiki.superadmin

Page permissions, editable, changes to page permission reflected in realm permissions... so that the user can see what the effect of changing the page permission is on roles within the realm

eg
Page permission not ticked, realm box white Page permission ticked, realm box grey
If permission is granted in realm, tick in realm permission box (but not editable)
If permission not granted in realm no tick in realm box.
If user tries to change realm box, javascript offers to take to site wide edit (if user is allowed)
